PASTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Parishioners,

Most everyone is familiar with the concept of a U-turn. The most common experience is turning completely around to head in the opposite direction. Today's readings can best be understood by our own understanding of a U-turn. The prophet Ezekiel speaks of God's justice in dealing with people who make a U-turn in their spiritual lives. The Lord says that if people who do what is good and right make a U-turn and begin to do what is evil, they shall suffer eternal death. But if those who live lives of sin and wickedness turn away from their evil ways, they shall live.

In like fashion, Jesus challenges the chief priests and elders of the temple with a parable about a father who asks his two sons to work in his vineyard. One says, "No," but then goes to work. The other says, "Yes," but does not go. Each of them made a U-turn. When Jesus asks them, "Which of the two did his father's will?", the answer was obvious – the one who originally said "No". This parable was about the chief priests and elders, the tax collectors and prostitutes. Each of them made a full U-turn in their life. The chief priests initially said "Yes" to God's laws but rejected the call of John the Baptist and Jesus to holiness. The sinners who at first said, "No" to God's laws, accepted the call to holiness. For this reason, Jesus promised that the sinner would enter the kingdom of heaven before the religious leaders would be admitted.

Return to God

We are to be heading in the direction of God's kingdom. If we are not, how can we expect to get there? If we desire to enter the kingdom of heaven, we need to look at the areas of our lives where we need to make U-turns. Do we need to make a U-turn in our prayer life? Personal time with God is vital to our spiritual growth. We may need to turn away from an empty or shallow prayer life to a full and sincere one. Do we need to make a U-turn in our charitable giving? Charity must be seen as service to the presence of Christ in each other. We must turn away from selfishness and turn toward self-sacrifice and self-giving.

Do we need to make a U-turn in the way in which we feed our minds? We can be entertained by movies or books that often glorify violence and immorality. Even small, harmless doses, can add up and desensitize us to the values of Christ. We must make a conscious effort to turn away from bad influences and turn toward what is pleasing to God. Do we need to make U-turns in the ways in which we deal with others; in how we respect and support one another or in the example that we give to children? Each of us must reflect upon the many areas where we may need to make a U-turn in our spiritual lives.

We are given the freedom to make such U-turns in our lives. In that freedom we can turn away from any sinful patterns we have developed and move toward God or we can turn away from God. We may have said, "No" to God in the past, but we can turn our lives around and say, "Yes" to God now. This is the U-turn that will lead to eternal life.

As God speaks to us today through the prophet Ezekiel, through St. Paul's letter and through His Son, Jesus, we must be honest with ourselves about the direction in which our lives, our words, and our actions are taking us. Is it in the direction of heaven or is it time to make a U-turn?

God bless you,

First Reading: Ezekiel 18:25-28 Ezekiel reminds the people that if a sinner turns away from his iniquity, he will live, not die.

Responsorial Psalm: PS 25:4-5, 6-7, 8-9
R. (6a) Remember your mercies, O Lord.

Second Reading: Philippians 2:1-11 Paul urges the converts at Philippi to be united in spirit and ideals, avoiding rivalry and dissension. He ends with the beautiful hymn extolling the humility and sacrifice of Christ.

Gospel: Matthew 21:28-32 Jesus speaks words of rebuke to the chief priests and the elders because they are not believing the teachings of John the Baptist. He warns them that tax collectors and prostitutes, who do believe John, will enter the Kingdom of God before them.

HIS WORD TODAY by Rev. William J. Reilly

"But if he turns from the wickedness he has committed, and does what is right and just, he shall preserve his life, Since he has turned away from all the sins he has committed, he shall surely live...when John came to you in the way of righteousness, you did not believe him, but tax collectors and prostitutes did. Yet even when you saw that, you did not later change your minds and believe him."

We are all called to conversion, to turn away from what is wrong or evil, and turn to what is good and beautiful. Unfortunately, some believe that conversion is an event of a single moment. God's grace inspires or impels us to change and do what is right and just. The one shining moment comes and takes over.

But for most of us, conversion is a lifelong process. We constantly are on guard to avoid what is evil, resist what impedes holiness, and continue the struggle as we 'hang in there.' We all experience that fight. Maybe we can use another approach. Conversion is not so much a turning from, but a turning to. We are summoned to turn to Christ, His life, the life of grace.

It is whom we seek that is important. When we keep our eyes fixed on Jesus, the obstacles and barrier are lessened and the direction of our lives becomes clearer. When we realize that Jesus has His eyes on us and is seeking us, we come to THE shining moment.
