PASTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Parishioners,

“Give to Caesar what is Caesar’s, but give to God what is God’s.” This was Jesus’ answer to some Pharisees who tried to trap Him in speech. The trick question was: “Teacher, give us your opinion in this case. Is it lawful to pay tax to the Emperor or not?” Caesar and God – the secular and the sacred! How do they relate to one another? Or how are we as humans to live in a universe that is both secular and sacred, and still manage to have loyalty to both?

There are some Christians who preached that this world, the secular, would be coming to an end when we entered the new millennium. Some no longer consider it important to keep their jobs or care for their homes. They are ready to be taken up in the “rapture”. With this issue present we can turn to Saint Paul’s letters to the Thessalonians. The expectation of the parousia – the Second Coming of Christ – played a key role in the development of New Testament thinking. In his second letter to the Thessalonians, Paul repeats what he said in his first letter. The community’s life was not to be guided by the false belief that the Second Coming was imminent, whether the alleged source of the belief was spoken by a self-styled prophet or proclaimed in a letter supposedly written by that prophet.

There is always the danger that Christians can become so “heavenly minded” that they neglect to do earthly good. This was precisely the problem that Karl Marx, the intellectual founder of Communism addressed when he wrote that “religion is the opium of the people.” Today’s reading from Isaiah recognizes that the secular government, even without realizing it, advances the plans of God. Such, at least, was the case of Cyrus the Great of Persia, who decreed the end of the exile. He allowed the Israelites to return to their homeland. In today’s passage Cyrus did not even know the Lord, nor think of himself as the Lord’s instrument. God parenthetically, yet significantly, remarked about Cyrus: “though you knew me not.” Yet, the secular governmental actions of Cyrus were later recognized as God’s instrument for Israel’s benefit.

Whatever we do, Paul advises us, whether in the family or at work, whether in the secular or spiritual moments of our activity, we should be thanking God. We should be remembering in prayer, proving our faith by constancy, laboring in hope, and acting out of complete conviction. There is only one God – the God of the secular and the sacred. There is no other!

God bless you,

First Reading: Isaiah 45:1, 4-6 Cyrus, King of Persia and friend to the Jewish people, becomes the Lord's anointed one, and through God's intervention, returns the Jews to their own country.

Responsorial Psalm: PS 96:1, 3, 4-5, 7-8, 9-10
R. (7b) Give the Lord glory and honor.

Second Reading: 1 Thessalonians 1:1-5b Paul rejoices that the Thessalonians, newly converted to Christianity, are displaying remarkable constancy in their new-found faith.

Gospel: Matthew 22:15-21 Seeking to entrap Jesus in His speech, the hostile and hypocritical Pharisees ask Him this dangerous question, "Is it lawful to pay tax to the emperor or not?" Realizing their treacherous motives, Jesus asks for a Roman coin, and pointing to the inscription of Caesar's, He answers, "Give to Caesar what is Caesar's, but give to God what is God's."

HIS WORD TODAY by Rev. William J. Reilly

"We give thanks to God always for all of you, remembering you in our prayers, unceasingly calling to mind your work of faith and labor of love, and enduring hope in our Lord Jesus Christ before our God and Father, knowing brothers and sisters loved by God how you were chosen. For our gospel did not come to you in word alone, but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and with much conviction."

Paul with his companions wrote this letter to give praise to God and encouragement to the disciples at Thessalonica. As I reread this inspired message, I can put a name and face of people of our time to whom a similar writing could be addressed.

I consider persons of great faith who have walked among us, as St. Teresa of Calcutta. I hear the words calling for justice spoken by the martyred Oscar Romero in his labor of love. I reflect on the word of hope generated by the exhortation of Pope Francis in the 'Joy of the Gospel.'

Their example reminds me that I too have been chosen. More than just the written word, these models remind me that I have been chosen and the power of the gospel and Spirit lives within me. The fruit of the reflection calls me to live the same message with deeper conviction for 'I am the Lord, there is no other.'

We pray for the deceased members, relatives and friends of our parish family, especially Thomas C. Maguire, Sr.

"Come to their aid, O saints of God; come forth to meet them, angels of the Lord, receiving their souls, presenting them to the Most High."

Rod Dreher discusses "The Benedict Option" Friday, November 3, 2017 - 7:30pm

MOTHER BONIFACE SPIRITUALITY CENTER, 3501 Solly Avenue in northeast Philadelphia is offering a Tuesday evening program "Contemporary Questions About The Last Things" on November 7, 14, and 21, beginning at 7 pm and concluding at 8:30 pm. In November, we remember our beloved dead and celebrate All Saints Day. Many people think that death is the end of one's existence. They may live for the moment or work to usher in the kingdom here on earth, but they are not living with the hope of final resurrection. What difference does Christian hope make? What is the goal of our human existence? Why do Catholics reject reincarnation, and how is this related to the Incarnation and to our growth in faith and holiness? This short course will consider these and related topics (e.g. assisted suicide, purgatory, cremation.)
Presenter: Sr. Sara Butler, MSBT, S.T.L., Ph.D. has taught dogmatic theology for over 30 years
Fee: Free Will Offering. Please call 267-350-1830 for more information or to register.

Completion of Fundraiser for Cargo Van for Little Sisters of the Poor

– Thank you for your generous support of the Little Sisters of the Poor! In 2016, the Father John E. Doyle Council of the Knights of Columbus undertook an effort to raise the funds needed to purchase a new cargo van for the Little Sisters of the Poor. The Sisters depend upon a reliable cargo van to collect donations of food, clothing, furniture and other items – items that are essential to the operation of Holy Family Home and the care of the home’s nearly 100 residents. The cost of a new van is in excess of $40,000.00. Through the generous response of members of the Doyle council, the parishes the Doyle council serves (Corpus Christi and St. Rose), and area Knights of Columbus councils, over $45,000.00 was raised to purchase a new cargo van. More than $15,000.00 was raised for this effort during a collection here at Corpus Christi in October, 2016. On October 6, 2017, members of the Doyle Council presented the Little Sisters of the Poor with their brand new cargo van! The Little Sisters of the Poor and the residents at Holy Family Home remember all of their benefactors – including those here at Corpus Christi – in their daily prayers. Thank you for your generosity! [see the article at www.CatholicPhilly.com]
